

Video surveillance can provide you with a level of awareness and control that was previously unheard of. You can now view video footage from virtually any place, anytime. Our experienced sales team can help you choose from a full line of CCTV/video surveillance equipment and services and design a custom system to meet your specific needs.

- Security Cameras: Wave Technologies will design a custom IP camera system specifically engineered to meet your needs. We also offer a full line of low light, night vision and infrared (IR) cameras.
- Digital Recorders: We also offer the best solutions for all your DVR needs from single channel covert equipment to large facility-wide enterprise systems.
- Monitors: Choose the size, resolution, type and format of your monitor and choose from an array of touch screen options.
- Remote Monitoring: Access your IP camera video footage anywhere, anytime from any computer or smart phone device.
- Network Video Solutions: Grant access of your recorded video footage to authorized users in your organization.
-